

PRIVACY POLICY

The privacy of your personal information is important to us. Please read and review this privacy policy for more information.

Visitors are allowed to browse our site without entering any personal information or having any personal information recorded. The option to enter your name, e-mail address, phone number or any other personal information on our online form is voluntary to help us communicate with you. Enter this information only if you would like additional information about our practice or you are interested in scheduling an appointment. The information entered will be used by our practice solely to track and follow up with your requests and will NOT be sold to any third party. If you would like to opt-out of further communication with our office after being contacted by e-mail or phone, simply let us know, and we will comply immediately.

Our website contains links to other websites. We are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of those web sites.

This website uses standard analytics and tracking practices, including cookies and tracking pixels, from third parties to operate, monitor and improve the website. The cookies and tracking practices that our third party partners use may include your IP address, website activity and other identifiers to match the cookies with this site. We and our third party partners may use these cookies to show you targeted ads on other websites based on your online activity. If you would like to opt out of these targeted ads, please visit networkadvertising.org/choices. No personally identifying information is collected except what you may choose to send to the practice through the secure contact form(s) on the site.
